DAUGHTERS ARE HERE

The Advance Guard for Congress Has Arrived.

BIG CONVENTION IS ASSURED

Mrs. McLean Promises Large Attendance—Social Function to Be Great Feature of Gathering—Benefit Entertainment at Continental Hall on Wednesday—Minutemen on Guard.

"We expect the seventeenth annual congress to be the largest and best convention in the history of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution," said Mrs. Donald McLean, president general of that organization, at the New Willard last evening.

Mrs. McLean arrived in Washington early yesterday morning. In the afternoon she attended several special meetings of the various committees which are completing arrangements for the convention to open at the Continental Hall Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

"Of course, I cannot tell just how many delegates will be present, but I am told by those in charge of this department that the number of delegates at the coming congress will far exceed the attendance of 600 last year."

"With the exception of a few minor details, everything is in readiness for the opening session Monday morning. There will be no delay in getting down to real business."

Vanguard Has Arrived.

The vanguard of the out-of-town delegates began arriving yesterday. The local hotels are beginning to take on an aspect as of inauguration week.

In the lobbies and corridors may be seen groups of delegates, national officers, and State regents, laying plans for the convention. Unlike last year, there is little politics discussed among the visitors, because only a few minor offices are to be filled this time.

Although the arrangements are almost complete, and there remains but little for the visitors who have already arrived to do, many of the State regents are laying plans for conferences to be held aside from the general meetings of the congress.

Despite inclement weather, many Daughters yesterday put in the day sightseeing. Quite a number of State regents are spending their leisure moments in looking down upon the lawmakers from the galleries.

Big Attendance Looked For.

Trains from every section of the country are expected to bring their quota of delegates from now on. The local hotels have already booked accommodations that are pronounced record-breaking for any organization that has ever visited Washington.

It was learned at the headquarters of the D. A. R., at 902 F Street northwest, yesterday that social functions to be held in the evenings while the congress is in session will be a novel feature.

It is planned to hold the reception to the president general at the Willard on Monday evening. At this reception the national officers will be the hosts to the entire congress.

On Wednesday evening at the Continental Hall will be held a grand benefit entertainment, at which an illustrated lecture will be given by Louis H. Cornish, of New York. He will tell of the history of the American flag. The Minutemen and other military organizations of the District will attend in full uniform.

Mrs. McLean hopes to make this affair a financial success, since the proceeds will go toward the maintenance of the Continental Hall.

A musicale by celebrated artists of this and other cities will be given on Thursday evening at the Continental Hall. Mrs. Trephos Bates Batcheller, of Massachusetts, will sing. Among other artists who are expected to perform is Rev. J. Nevitt Smith, of New York.

At the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church Friday evening the Sons of the American Revolution will entertain the Daughters with a patriotic celebration.

It is expected the printed programmes for the congress will arrive here Saturday for distribution among the members of the society.

New York Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Walter Damrosch and his New York Symphony Orchestra will appear at the New National Theater Sunday night, April 25. This will be the second engagement of the orchestra this season.

Mme. Lillian Nordica, the famous Wagnerian dramatic soprano, will be the special soloist. The programme arranged includes the works of Wagner, Lohengrin, Schubert, Hamlet, Quilmer, Vidal, and Tchaikovsky. Mme. Nordica will be heard in eight songs. The concert and recital will be under the local management of Mr. T. Arthur Smith, of 1411 F Street northwest.

Names Cemetery for Johnson.

Secretary of War Taft yesterday ordered that the national cemetery at Greenville, Tenn., shall hereafter be known as "The Andrew Johnson National Cemetery."

WILL APPEAR IN PRINCE OF PARCHEESI.

MISS POLLY MASON.

A clever member of the Too Foo chorus.

MISS GOODWIN.

THOS. E. SHEA IN "THE BELLS."

Lovers of Classic Drama Fill the New Academy Theater.

The New Academy was again filled last evening by the lovers of the classic drama to witness Mr. Thomas E. Shea in his rendition of "The Bells," presented by Messrs. Cohan & Harris as the third offering of the present week's engagement.

The story of the play, adapted from the French by Louis Cardoche for Mr. Shea, is familiar to theater-goers, and need not be retold. Its object, to show the power of conscience to punish for sins committed and wrongs done, is most forcibly brought out by the powerful presentation by Mr. Shea of the character of Mathias, the conscience-stricken murderer, whose crime has brought its own terrible retribution.

Mr. Shea's physical and mental qualifications for a correct and forceful portrayal of this character are unquestioned, and his reception by the large and intelligent audience present last night, gave ample testimony of their appreciation of this fact.

The scenic presentation was most effective, and the various characters of the play capably represented by the members of the supporting company.
